why choose us?

why choose us?

Our photographers, are all experienced, tertiary qualified professionals who know their trade intimately. Our studio is bound by standards of excellence and a code of ethics and conduct beyond that expected as industry standard. We have developed a reputation for consistently providing our clientele with professional, relaxed and most importantly, incredibly friendly service. We provide work of the highest quality and our relaxed and discreet approach to wedding photography makes us sought after by couples wanting something more from their images.

your wedding day

Whether you want photographs of only the ceremony, or from the bride's preparation through to the reception, we have a collection to suit. Our style is very natural and we capture all the unstaged candid moments as well as the significant events within the day. We're always discreet to ensure that both you and your guests enjoy the proceedings without interruption. We certainly also create more traditional photographs as well so that all of your family and bridal portraiture needs are catered for.

on forever

after your wedding

Your photographs will be ready once you return from your honeymoon (usually 1 month after your wedding). A complimentary online gallery will also be created and will be available for you to view on our website (www.looking-glass.com.au). This gallery makes viewing and ordering prints easy for friends and family. It's user friendly, convenient and payment is secure.

If your collection includes an album, we will produce a proposed layout based on our experience of creating heirloom albums. Once you've had a chance to look through our proposed album we welcome your feedback as to changes you'd like made so that your album is exactly what you want. All album features are completely customisable to your tastes.
